New Telephone Rates Are Necessary

BECAUSE The old rates failed to provide any reserve provision for depreciation or storm damage on an investment by the people of the Province of $22,956,148.57.

¶ The old rates barely paid for operating expenses and interest charges on the capital debt.

¶ The interest charges of over a million and a quarter annually are fixed and must be paid.

¶ Operating expenses have been cut by $10.08 per station in the last few years and can be cut no further without seriously impairing the service.

¶ The added revenue will secure adequate protection of the investment and put the telephone utility on a sound financial basis.

¶ The individual subscriber's share of the increase is small and he receives dollar for dollar of his rental in good telephone service.

¶ With adequate and fair rates, Alberta's telephone system is second to none in America. As a subscriber you appreciate this.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WEST EDMONTON.

May I express my very great appreciation of the efforts of all my friends who assisted me in the election. No one could have been honored by a more loyal band of workers, and the splendid results obtained were due to their efforts as much as to the record of the Government with its advanced legislation and the budget which appealed to all the people. With such a good cause and splendid support I received it did undoubtedly contribute to the splendid result attained.

In answer to a popular demand from farmers for greater facilities for having their grain crushed, Mr R. Speakman, the well known Star agent and implement man, will shortly open up a crushing mill at the rear of his premises on Second St. Farmers will find this a great convenience, eliminating the lengthy waits sometimes necessitated when taking their turn at the mill. The foundation of the new mill has been laid, and work is proceeding on the structure.

Weather conditions had improved sufficiently to allow grain cutting to again become general in this district Monday last. Some damage has been reported thru the sprouting of the grain which had been cut and not stooked; this was much more noticeable in the early-cut barley; but in some few spots the oats and wheat had become affected. A general warning has been sent out by some of the elevator companies to grain growers to beware of too soon cutting and threshing their grain after the rain storms. This warning was issued after a number of cars of grain which had been bought by the companies' agents and graded "tough," heated so much in transit that on reaching Winnipeg the whole carloads were classed "condemned."

To Build Mills In Canada For The Manufacture Of Artificial Silk From Pulpwood

When we gaze on a great forest tree it is not easy to visualize it in terms of rich cloth and silken raiment. And yet map, not content with silk, cotton, wool, linen and a number of lesser sources of clothing material, now employs wood for the manufacture of the finest textiles—artificial silk, or rayon, as it is called by the trade. The basis of all artificial silk is cellulose, and cellulose is the principal constituent of wood.

As long ago as 1859, Count Hilaire de Chardonnet produced artificial silk commercially, but it has taken many years of incessant labor to bring the various processes to that stage of perfection which is essential to commercial success. That the industry has now become a great undertaking is shown by the fact that the world's production in tons has risen from 7,500 in 1909 to an estimated 100,000 for this year.

The general principle underlying the manufacturing methods is the treatment of the cellulose from the wood reagents to give a gelatinous solution which can be forced through a number of minute nozzles into a bath of solution (or in one process into air). This solution causes the coagulation of the liquid emerging from the nozzles and thus creates the actual filaments of artificial silk, though the material has to pass through several other stages, varying with the process, before it finally emerges as that elastic transparent substance to which we are now accustomed, but which would have amazed many a nineteenth century grandmother.

The possibilities for rayon manufacture in Canada, with her vast pulpwood areas, are enormous. The countries which were first to develop the industry, however, were not those which possessed much raw material, but those which already had the organization, the equipment, and the markets for a big textile industry. Thus, shortly before the war, France, already predominant in the manufacture of natural silk, took the lead, followed by Switzerland. Now the big producers and exporters are the United States, Great Britain and the countries of Central Europe that are prominent in the natural silk trade.

For a good many years Canada has supplied much of the sulphate pulp used for that purpose in these countries. In 1922 the natural resources intelligence service of the Canadian department of the interior published a report drawing attention to the unusually favorable conditions for the development within the Dominion of artificial silk manufacturing in its entirety. The following year Court-auld, Ltd., largest manufacturers in the United Kingdom, sent engineers to Canada to investigate these representations, with the result that a plant was established in Cornwall, Ontario, in 1924, at a cost of $2,500,000.

This would appear to be but the preliminary of many others. Canadian Celanese, Ltd., capitalized at $7,000,000, is now constructing a plant at Drummondville, Quebec, and the Howard Smith Paper Mills have formed a subsidiary company called the Canadian Cellulose Company, which will be operated at Cornwall, Ontario. A new concern, the Canadian Rayon Pulp Company, is erecting a $2,000,000 rayon plant at New Westminister, B.C. The B.C. Pulp and Paper Company, formerly the Whalen Pulp and Paper Company, operating pulp mills in British Columbia, has been carrying on chemical research for some time in the utilization of hemicellulose for the production of cellulose and certain results and conclusions have been reached which, it is stated, may determine the company to proceed with installation of a new plant for the manufacture of this sort of pulp. Many other companies variously located from the Maritime Provinces to the Pacific Coast are also taking steps or considering means to enter this field which is so profitable to so large, and, which Canadian resources, both of wood reserves and natural power supplies, are particularly adapted to support.

Win Better Prizes

Saskatchewan Buttermakers Are Successful At Toronto Exhibition
Saskatchewan buttermakers won many prizes at both the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto and the Central Canada Exhibition at Ottawa. At both exhibitions the prizes were awarded on the group system and Saskatchewan buttermakers were near the top of the list in practically every class.

"Saskatchewan won 17 prizes, seven of which were firsts, at the Canadian National show, an accomplishment of which Saskatchewan buttermakers may justly feel proud," said P. E. Reed, provincial dairy commissioner, in commenting upon the success of the creameries of this province at the big eastern fairs, coming on the heels of the big winnings recently at Vancouver. The showing at Ottawa, where there were not nearly so many entries from this province, is also said to be very creditable.

Influenza In North

Taking Heavy Toll Among Natives Near Arctic Circle

Influenza is taking a heavy toll among the natives of Canadian and Alaskan territories bordering on the Arctic Ocean, according to Captain Karl Klenner, owner and master of the fur trading schooner Old Maid No. 2, which returned to Vancouver from a voyage as far as Victrola. In a sparsely settled district near Herschel, according to the captain, one hundred men and women had died when he was there in July, and at Coronation Gulf, there had been thirty-five deaths and many were seriously ill.

Although the captain said the fur catch in the western arctic last winter was not good, owing to the sufferings of the natives of influenza, he expected his fur cargo to be worth $100,000. He plans to dispose of it on the Seattle Fur Exchange.

Strawberries In Saskatchewan

Grown In Commercial Quantities In The Nipawin District

Strawberry growing in commercial quantities north of latitude 52, is the proud accomplishment of the Nipawin district in Saskatchewan. The plant has been successfully grown there for the past 12 years, but owing to lack of transportation facilities until the autumn of 1924, when the T.S.P. and Prince Albert extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway was completed, it did not become a commercial industry.

In 1925 several thousand 25-quart cases were shipped, some of them finding their way as far as Winnipeg and Regina. This year the production is expected to be nearly double that of last season.

Maple Sugar Output

Unseasonable Weather Cuts Down Production This Year

Owing to the unseasonable weather during the tapping season, the production of maple syrup and sugar in Canada this year showed a decrease as compared with the figures for the previous year. The quantity of maple sugar produced in 1926 amounted to 7,137,263 pounds, valued at $1,220,537, as contrasted with 10,496,267 pounds, worth $1,547,672 in 1925. Maple syrup output totalled 1,746,750 cases, valued at $3,575,535, as against 1,673,092 gallons, valued at $3,440,235 last year. The province of Quebec continues to produce over half of the total Dominion production of maple syrup and sugar.

Add Billion To Income

Products Of Farms Of Western Canada Add to National Wealth
In a recent dispatch to the Toronto Globe, W. L. Smith, special correspondent of the Farmer's Star, estimates that approximately $1,000,000,000 will be added to Canada's income this year, directly and indirectly, from the products of the farms of Western Canada.

Last year's wheat crop was worth $400,000,000 to the growers, and it put the west in the prosperity column. Mr. Smith believes it is a fair assumption that this year the return will not be less. "Western Canada is going into general farming more fully than in the past, and livestock, poultry, dairy products and vegetables will pile up the money returns at every point of handling. Altogether a round billion is in sight," states Mr. Smith.

The prospect is encouraging for the whole of Canada. Last year the field crops of the country were valued at $1,112,691,000. The east this year will again increase materially the west's contribution to national wealth.

Will Pay Prizes

Alberta Department of Agriculture Will Grant Honorariums to Prize Winners

The usual honoraria for grand championships and first prizes won by Alberta exhibitors at the Chicago International Exhibition to be held the first week of next December, will be paid this year by the Alberta department of agriculture. The honorarium for a grand championship is $100, and for a first prize is $100, in the International Hay and Grain Show. The exhibits from Alberta for this show will be collected by the department at the government seed cleaning plant, and the department will pay the freight or express on these exhibits from Edmonton to Chicago and return and will arrange to put the exhibits in place. The special prizes offered by the department are for: threshed grain, grass seed, clover seeds, hays, alfalfa, corn on the cob, etc.

Desirable Trait in "Huskies"

One of Most Important is Learning to Halt On Command

In Alaska a good team of "huskies" now brings $500 to $700, depending upon their strength and the efficiency of their training. One of the most desirable traits in a dog used for team work is his training to halt immediately upon command. Prompt halting is necessary because the great danger of sled travel is the air holes in the ice. To teach them they are often allowed to plunge into an ice hold trap so that the chilly bath may be remembered.

This magnificent mounted head of a Rocky Mountain sheep was presented recently to Lt. Colonel C. P. The head was sent forward from Banff by the 1st Battalion Calgary Highlanders, 10th Battalion C.E.F., in commemoration of the fact that they have become affiliated with the Argyll and Butherland Highlanders. Sir George is an honorary member of the Officers' Mess of the Calgary Highlanders.

Farming Is The Fundamental Source Of Canada's Wealth And Basis Of Our Prosperity

Prefer Canadian Wheat

Purchasing Agent From Cuba Buys Canadian Goods

Canadian hard spring wheat is preferred to all other varieties in Cuba according to J. E. Gonzales, purchasing agent for the Government of Cuba, who was recently in Montreal buying Canadian goods for his country. The annual exports of Canada to Cuba total in value nearly $2,000,000. When in Montreal, Mr. Gonzales arranged for the purchase of $2,725,000 worth of potatoes for later delivery. He will also buy quantities of flour, hay, oats and other products.

It will be only a few years before the annual Cuban consumption of Canadian grain will assume much larger proportions, said Mr. Gonzales. A project was on foot to erect four flour mills at Havana, and when those were finished, the demand for Canadian hard wheat would be more than quadrupled.

Should Eat Little Meat

Drink More Milk and Eat Eight Years to Life

By drinking more milk and eating less meat men could add eight years to the "part of his life worth most to himself and to the world." H. O. Sherman, professor of chemistry at Columbia university, stated in a recent address.

The adequate diet determined by recent research work in nutrition, he said, prescribes more milk and less meat to increase individual efficiency and vitality. The public health movement promises to augment the life span by eight years, and this increase could be doubled. Professor Sherman thinks, by a universal shift in diet.

Honey Yield In Alberta

Beekkeeping Business Has Yielded Good Returns This Season

The beekkeeping business of Alberta which is centred mainly in the Irrigated district around Lethbridge and Stirling has brought good returns this season. In the locally named the yield is estimated at more than a hundred tons from 3,000 colonies. Last year most of the local honey was wholesaled at 15 cents per pound. This year a price of better than 16 cents is being received despite the larger local crop. This is due to the fact that the Ontario crop of white honey is only 40 per cent. of last year's output in that province.

A tour through any good agricultural section of Canada, in the fall of the year impresses one with the fact that the greatest and most inexhaustible source of Canada's wealth is in Canadian soil. The country is one great panoramic picture of grain crops, growing forage and livestock feeding contentedly on a thousand hillside, meadows and pastures. The actual cash value of all this production exceeds two billion dollars annually, and strange as it may seem this huge mass of wealth is achieved without exhausting any natural resources or depleting any storehouse to which succeeding generations are entitled heirs.

Economists speak with pride to the industrial skylines of Canadian cities, but there we find labor expended on what the farmer has already produced or on the raw material, the taking of which is exhausting our forests and our mines. For the year ended June 30, 1926, Canada exported farm products to the value of $317,206,871, or over $17,000,000 more than the total export trade of the Dominion ten years ago. Here is almost one billion dollars' worth of goods added to the wealth of Canada without depletion or exhaustion of any natural resource. It was taken from the soil, air and sunshine. Just a future generation may take it in still greater volume if correct methods are practiced. Everything possible and economically practicable should be done to encourage manufacturing and commerce, in order to maintain a proper equilibrium balance within the nation. But the great basic industry in Canada is agriculture; farming is the fundamental source of wealth; the soil is the basis of our prosperity—Farmers Advocate.

Enough Apples For Everyone

One Barrel of Apples For Every Three Persons

In relation to population Canada and the United States will each produce this year one barrel of apples for about every three persons of the population. The commercial apple crop of Canada is placed at 3,000,000 barrels. The Dominion's population is 9,000,000 in round figures.

In the United States the apple crop is estimated at 40,000,000 barrels. In Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, the principal fruit growing districts of Eastern Canada, the apple crop this year is slightly lower than last year, but is 20 per cent. more in British Columbia than a year ago. The production in 1926 in British Columbia will total over 1,200,000 barrels. A considerable part of the Canadian apple crop is consumed in other countries where it finds a ready market. The fruit is sold principally through co-operative organizations of fruit farmers.

In Australia the ill-fated bachelors, according to the latest figures, number about 90,000, in New Zealand 27,000, in South Africa 14,000 (these are whites only), and in Canada 270,000—a total of 421,000 bachelors who must either marry wives outside the dominions or not marry at all.

United States Mail Clerks Get Orders To Shoot To Kill

"Shoot to kill" orders have been issued to 22,500 railway mail clerks as a drastic means of protecting the precious postal treasure from bandits the United States post-office department has announced.

If this method of defensive warfare against the underworld proves inadequate, post office department authorities indicated the United States Marines might be called in again to guard the mails, as they did in 1921.

The command not only applies to railway mail clerks, but to all postal employees, and is intended as a warning to handle who make a business of robbing mail trains. The order instructs all employees to defend mail property even at the expense of their own lives.

The recent Chicago hold-up, when $135,000 in currency was stolen, is said to have inspired the order. Postmaster-General New issued the command after a sudden conference with postal experts.

The Cape Frock An Established Vogue

The cape has become a part of every phase of the mode, and is no more smart than when used on the street frock, as pictured in this model of navy trimmed with polka dotted silk. The cape is separate, but so flattering you will never want to take it off. It has a long collar of its own to be tied at the neck, or the ends crossed one at the back and one at the front. The frock underneath is straight, with a tailored collar, ending in long revers, and a set-in panel. The light sleeves are set-in at the armhole, and a wide belt is crushed into a big buckle. No. 1299 is for the miss and small woman, and is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. A Little Miss and a Big Man

Though her proximity to a life belt might seem to indicate certain fears of the broad bosom of the Atlantic on the part of Miss Mary Ferguson Lawson, aged 5, of Winnipeg, you would be wrong in supposing it, since the young lady has merely taken up this position for purposes of photography. Like many more experienced travelers, Mrs. Lawson chose the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland, with which, of course, are included her commander, R. G. Latta, and her purser, J. Walker Barlett (the tall man)—as the most satisfactory means of trans-Atlantic locomotion for a young and unaccompanied voyager. For all three, the ship skipper and the purser, have seen most of the great ports of the world, as well as many of its out-of-the-way corners on numerous cruises, and have traversed the Atlantic many a time.

Mary was born in Winnipeg, but lived with her mother in England. Now her mother is dead and she is going to live with an uncle, R. W. Ferguson, at Woodstock, Ont.

As you read each allusion, find out how many pupils recognize it, and let one pupil explain it. Then, rapidly ask a few questions about the lesson which the allusion recalls.

The Value Of A Farmer

By Chas. W. Peterson

There is no subject which should interest the smaller towns all over Canada than the development of their rural trading areas to the greatest possible extent. A study of the value to Canada of a farmer is illuminating. It is shown that over 165 million dollars have been brought to this country in cash and effects by immigrants. This new wealth has played its important part in the development of the country. Prof. Irving Fisher calculates that the productive value of the average individual to the state is $3,000. The average new-born child has a money value of $95—the value increasing to $4,000 by twenty years and dropping to $2,500 at fifty years of age, according to accepted calculations.

Canadian railways are vitally interested in ascertaining the traffic value of a settler. Some years ago able statisticians obtained as a basis, the percentage of their whole freight traffic derived from agriculture (horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, wheat, oats, barley, flax) coal, and in and out-going passenger revenue, and divided the number of settlers into the figures given. Employing statistics of the Dominion railway commission, the exact percentages of each of the railways were worked out, based on the total grain tonnage for the year between 1st of September, 1915, and the 31st of August, 1916. Total for the three prairie provinces alone for the four classes of revenue above referred to was $163,516,318. In 1916 there were 219,105 farmers in those provinces and the division of one total by the other places the settler's value at $746.33. Assuming, therefore, that all traffic should be credited to the settler, that sum is the average amount each farmer put into the revenue of the railroad. $746.33 capitalized at 5 1/2 per cent, being interest government is paying on its Victory Bonds, gives a return of $13,569.63—the value of each average farmer as Canada.

If we capitalize that portion of the national income which is ascribable to human effort it is found to be from six to eight times all property value. The total amount of life insurance in force is only a fraction of this capitalized value. We may, therefore, readily come to the conclusion that Canada's "vital" asset is easily our greatest. If so, it seems to follow that reasonable public expenditure devoted to the task of adding to this asset by intelligently promoting immigration to this country, must be regarded as an excellent national business investment. The immediate beneficiary is the small town.

LIBERAL PARTY WILL ONCE MORE ASSUME POWER

Ottawa—Final returns received strengthen the position of the Liberal Party. The Liberal party will have 118 straight representatives, at least, in the sixteenth parliament, while Conservatives will have 91; Liberal-Progressives 11, and Progressives 8. The remainder will be made up of United Farmers of Alberta, Laborites and Independents.

The impression is that the government will resign as soon as the Liberal party is able to take over the reins of office. Former Premier King with 118 of the 245 seats in the house, would then form a cabinet depending on support mainly from the eleven Liberal-Progressives and 8 Progressives elected.

Talk of a Liberal-Progressive coalition is already being suggested in political circles here, and in this connection it is altogether likely Mr. King will include Robert Forke, former Progressive leader, in any ministry which he might be called upon to form.

In all probability parliament will be called to assemble in November. On October 19, Mr. King is due in London for the imperial conference. Some months ago, the Canadian government accepted the invitation but recent developments have left the situation much in the air. Important questions are likely to arise at the conference and there is a feeling that the prime minister should be there in person. At the same time, there is questioning whether he will be able to form his government and transact necessary public business in the interval.

One of the surprises of the campaign was the decline in Conservative strength in Ontario and the prairies. In Ontario, the Conservative representation dropped from 48 to 45. In Manitoba, where Conservatives held seven seats in the last parliament, they will have none in the next. In the whole of the three prairie provinces, there has up to the present been only one Conservative returned as against nine in the last parliament. In Quebec, where Conservatives had counted on gains, their representation remains the same. They have four seats as in the last parliament.

The prime minister himself failed to secure election in Fort St. Pierre, Man., and five of his ministers, three of them from the province of Quebec, were defeated. On the other hand the Liberal party, headed by Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, now constitutes the largest group in the new parliament. Mr. King and all the members of the former government who contested ridings were returned by the electorate. Mr. King was elected in the constituency of Prince Albert, Sask.

Family Settlement Plan

Lord Clarendon Says Scheme Provides Canada With Picked British Settlers

Montreal—"A conspicuous success," was how Lord Clarendon regarded the 3,000 family settlement scheme which has provided Canada with a flow of picked British settlers during the past two seasons. Lord Clarendon was in Montreal en route to the Maritime Provinces. He said he would return home in favor of renewal of this form of settlement, which was to his mind the best kind of colonization.

Progress in Ireland

Vancouver—Ireland is experiencing now that degree of unity which is synonymous with social and industrial progress, declared Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, who, with Lady Craig and party, arrived here from Prince Rupert. Sir James has completed a journey across Canada and will remain at the Pacific Coast for about a week before returning east.

War Against Indians

Mexico City—Aeroplanes and gas bombs will be used against the Yaqui Indians now in revolt in the state of Sonora. The Mexican war department also ordered out cavalry and infantry. The Yaqui in rebellion complain that much of their tribal lands have been expropriated.

Wants Seat On League

Claim Is Being Pressed By Irish Free State

Geneva.—A sharp fight is developing in the league for the ninth non-permanent seat on the council which was originally considered as safe for Portugal.

Other probable candidates are Finland on behalf of the Baltic group, Czechoslovakia whose claim is supported by some of the powers in the hope of retaining the valuable services of Premier Benes on the council, as well as Ireland.

Ireland has notified all the Dominions' delegates that in spite of their decision not to demand a seat on the council, Ireland is a candidate for the place and that she is best serving the interests of the Dominions as a whole by pressing her claim.

In view of this statement, Sir George Foster has amended his declaration that none of the dominions were candidates for the ninth place, making his exception on behalf of Ireland.

Fighting In China

British Cruiser Has Been Ordered to Leave Far East of Trouble
Devonport, England.—The British cruiser, H.M.S. Carlisle, has been ordered to leave for China.

Hankow, China.—The "Red" Cantonese forces made another attack on Wu Chang, but again were repulsed. The bombardment killed a number of non-combatants. The food shortage is acute.

A relief expedition is being organized to rescue missionaries and other foreigners at Wu Chang. The British gunboats, H.M.S. Cricket and H.M.S. Goo, have left for Wanchow, while a naval detachment has entrained for Changou.

Question Not Treated Seriously

Talk of Americanizing Canada Humbug Says British Labor Leader

London—"The talk about the 'Americanization' of Canada is the veriest humbug," declared Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, M.P., colonial secretary in the late Labor Government, in an interview here on his return from a visit to the Dominion. "Nobody there treats the annexation question seriously."

Mr. Thomas remarked that once again he had been immensely impressed while in Canada, with the potentialities of the Dominion and the great spirit of enterprise in all directions there.

Montevideo, Uruguay.—President Jose Sergio has submitted to congress a bill to abolish the use of honorary titles, such as "your excellency," on the ground that such forms of address are not becoming to an ultra-democratic country such as Uruguay.

Kingston, Jamaica.—The British Government has decided to disband the West India Regiment, the oldest negro unit in the British Empire. The decision has caused much disappointment here.

Budapest.—A new Hungarian currency will come definitely into effect on January 1, 1927, when the 1,000 and 3,000,000 crowns ($1.43 and $1.45) notes now in use must disappear from circulation.

ITALY ANGERED BY THE STAND TAKEN BY FRANCE

Rome.—Orders issued to the Fascist party by its directory refer vehemently to the French attitude in refusing to accept responsibility in the case of Cino Bocchini, who came from France to make his attempt against the life of Premier Mussolini. The order says in part:

"The land of France, for whose safety some of our 500,000 war dead fell, has been for years the most hospitable land for all those hatching in their perfidious hearts that red against Italy."

"It is there," the orders continue, "that spirits are excited, bombs are built, and those people are instructed who later will enter Italy to attempt the life of the head of the Italian regime. All this cannot be longer tolerated."

The orders declare that, if France desires to continue friendly with Italy as the latter desires, she must change her line of conduct. At any rate, after what has happened, Italy will keep a sharp watch at the frontier and receive people such as Locetti with "guns in hand."

Organizers of armed revolts against state authority, and those attempting the life of the King, Queen, Crown Prince or head of the government, will be subject to capital punishment in Italy, according to an outline of a bill being prepared as an aftermath of the recent attempted assassination of Premier Mussolini.

Gains Made By Parties

Change in Standing of Different Parties As Result of Election
Toronto.—The Canadian Press issued the following final summary of gains by parties:

Liberals from Conservatives, 22; Liberals from Progressives, 1; Liberal-Progressive from Conservatives, 2.

Conservatives from Liberals, 4; Progressives from Conservatives, 2; Labor-Liberal-Progressive from Conservatives, 1.

U.F.A. from Liberals, 2; Labor from Conservatives, 1.

The standing at dissolution was: Conservatives, 116; Liberals, 101; Progressives, 24; Labor, 2; Independent, 2 and 1 vacancy.

Hit By Depreciation
Louvain.—Belgium's financial difficulties have swallowed up at least ten percent, much of the million dollars worth of Belgian bonds presented to Belgium for redemption by the Germans in 1914.

Candidates Lose Deposits

Liberal Candidates in Toronto and York Failed Badly

Toronto—Nine candidates in the Toronto and York districts lost their deposits in the voting, according to the returns compiled. There will be other additions to the total figures, but it is not expected the result will be materially affected.

The Liberal candidates in the Toronto and York losing their deposits were:

Shipway, in Toronto South; Murdoch, in Toronto High Park; Tipping in Parkdale; Hunter, in West York; Boyd, in Toronto North West; Dr. Walker, in Toronto, Scarborough; and Miss Bennett, in Toronto East. Both Labor candidates—Simpson in Toronto North West and Macdonald in West Centre—also lost their deposits. Each of the candidates who lost their deposits will forfeit $200 to the Dominion Government.

Congratulates King

Sir Henry Drayton Says Mr. Meighen's Defeat Is Regrettable

Toronto—"I congratulate the King party on its return to power," said Sir Henry Drayton, M.P. for West York and acting premier at Ottawa during the absence of Mr. Meighen. "May they, this time, give something with it for Canada."

Mr. Meighen's defeat, he said, was particularly regrettable. His courage in sticking to his first constituency had been characteristic, although not appreciated. Quebec had remained solid, he said, and this again was a regrettable feature. He thought the vote did not record the thought of Quebec on the real economic and fiscal questions before the country.

Robert Forke Satisfied

Former Leader of Progressive Party Comments On Elections

Brandon—"The federal election results are very satisfactory," declared Robert Forke, former leader of the Progressive party, when interviewed.

Mr. Forke, who regained his seat in Brandon, having the endorsement of both the Liberal and Progressive parties, added the results were particularly gratifying both from a Dominion and provincial viewpoint.

The former Progressive leader had no comment to make when asked about rumors from Ottawa that he might enter the cabinet of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Youngest Member in House
Ottawa.—It is claimed Louis Auger (Independent-Liberal), of Hawkesbury, Ont., who was elected to parliament for the constituency of Prescott, will be the youngest member of the new house. He is in his 24th year.

BRITAIN SUFFERS FROM EFFECTS OF COAL STRIKE

London—"The paralyzing effect of Great Britain's prolonged coal strike is so great," says The Westminster Gazette, "that a five-year industrial truce is needed for the business of the country to recover. Premier Baldwin is back in London, but his hands appear to be tied by the refusal of the die-hards in his party to permit pressure on the mine owners, and it is doubtful whether the premier will call a conference of the owner's representatives as he had suggested."

The Westminster Gazette estimated that the coal strike had already cost £350,000,000, while the ministry of labor's statistics further emphasize the seriousness of the position by showing that 1,559,500 are unemployed, which number does not include more than a million idlers.

The spokesman of the Federation of British Industries, asserts that manufacturers were forced to pay £3 a ton for inferior foreign coal, instead of 16 shillings, as in normal times, and that even if the strike ended tomorrow, a similar wage would not resume full action for a long time. Six weeks probably would elapse before the blast furnaces were in operation, which would delay the iron and steel works, and, in turn, engineering and similar works.

The Westminster Gazette's Labor correspondent says he has obtained from A. C. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Union, a statement that miners would agree to a national plan which might embody rates fixed in different districts. He said that provided a national agreement should be assured, the men would agree to a reduction of wages and an extension of their hours of work.

Historic Step Toward European Peace

Deposit of Locarno Treaties With League Ends Wait

Geneva, Switzerland.—Another historic step in European reconciliation was taken with the deposit with the secretariat of the League of Nations of the ratifications of the Locarno treaties of security and arbitration. This was followed by an optimistic statement by Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, to the British correspondents that the Locarno accords, now officially merged with the league, have completely changed the political situation in Europe. "It is," he declared, "the end of the policy of mistrust, and the birth of an era of collaboration."

In the opinion of Dr. Stresemann the big difficulty was in winning over German public opinion to the ideas voiced at Locarno, and he now was convinced that a big majority of his people sincerely believed in the Locarno pact.

Sign Guaranty Pact
Warsaw.—Coincident with the arrival of a Russian military mission for the purpose of studying Poland war industries, Minister Grabowski, director of the press service in the foreign office, issued a statement to the correspondent explaining that it was a guaranty pact which Poland and Rumania signed and not a secret military treaty, as is claimed in Germany.

German War General Married
Munich, Bavaria.—General Erich Ludendorff, 61, who was a quarter-master-general of the German imperial army in the world war, was married to Frau Dr. Mathilde von Kennel. The bride who was mentioned by the first Frau Ludendorff in the divorce proceedings in July, is a specialist on nervous diseases. The marriage ceremony was strictly private.

Will Try For New Record
Cologne.—Ernest Vierkotte, the German swimmer who recently broke the record for swimming the English Channel, but lost it a few days later to Georges Michel, has left for Calais for an attempt to regain his honors. Vierkotte crossed the channel August 20, in 12 hours and 43 minutes. On September 10, Michel set the time at 11 hours 5 minutes.

In California he was the guest of his great friend, Charlie Chaplin. He is seen in contrast with William Webber, General Agent, Atlantic Ports, Canadian Pacific, on the morning of departure.

The Weekly Poem

Women's gowns grow shorter;
Soon they'll disappear;
They are now a quarter
Briefer than last year.
Women's legs, shaded
By long gowns well braided,
Boldly are paraded,
With no prudish fear.

I am growing rattled
By the legs I see;
Leggy girls, embattled,
Have no mystery;
They have lost all traces
Of old charms and graces,
Thronging public places,
Showing every knee.

I am tired of seeing
Legs throughout the day,
When the night is fleeing,
When the dusk is grey,
Yellow legs and tawny,
Bulgy legs and scrawny,
Feeble legs and brawny,
In their silk array.

I am tired of viewing
Legs in every lane,
Gentle legs pursuing
Every modest swain.
Legs adroit and handy,
Brunette legs and sandy,
Knock kneed legs and bandy,
Fancy legs and plain.

I am tired of walking
With bow-legged dames,
For I think them shocking
And their dresses shames.
Legs are most alarming,
They are far from charming
When they're rebuilt for farming
Or for peasant games.

Legs are disenchanted,
They annoy a scout,
When he finds them slanting
Too far in or out;
When they are outweighing
Bodies they're conveying,
When they are betraying
Symptoms of the gout.

Girls have demonstrated
That their legs are real,
that they're matched and mated
Right down to the heel;
All our doubts are ended,
Ample proof and splen did
Has on us descended,
And convinced we feel.

Now that we are eager
To admit the fact,
Will those dresses meager
From the styles be hacked?
Will those legs be hidden
From our eyes leg-ridden,
To the shades be bidden,
Primly garbed and sacked?

For the world grows restive,
It is tired of legs;
Tired of females festive
Who have calves like kegs;
Tired of always gazing
At long legs amazing,
At gowns daring, dazing,
And a respite begs.

Joanna's reply was eagerly grateful: "Yes. That is what I tried to say. I want to be able to do as I please and not be criticized."

Yvonne rose, and crushed the fire from her cigarette. "Watch all the talk we shall need, I think," she said. "We shall enjoy each other tremendously, I imagine. Shall we go down to the winter garden? There will be somebody besides Teddy Dominister still there."

Joanna was conscious of something having been said, of some confidence reached out to her by Yvonne, which she had not fully understood. She was puzzled, as if she had been confronted by some subtle challenge that masked a strategy. For an instant she was at the point of breaking away, of running away regardless of the two trunks, a shining new one and a shabby old one, which had been lifted down from her taxi cab. This impulse subsided immediately, however. She decided that after a while she would understand Yvonne, perfectly. After a while, a long time after Joanna did!

In the winter garden the group that Yvonne had left around the stone table had broken up. Only Teddy Dominister and two others remained. One of them was a swarthy, dark haired, dark eyed man, who might have been of any age between twenty-five to forty-five. He was presented by Yvonne as Pendleton. Joanna thought him a very grave, and unaffable person. The other besides Dominister was a woman, who was really more than twenty-five but could not possibly have been forty. Yvonne identified her as Mrs. Marks. "Jove!" Lord Teddy exclaimed when Yvonne had named Pendleton and Mrs. Marks for Joanna. "I've thought of something clever!"

"Think it over carefully, Teddy," Yvonne admonished him, "before you reveal it. You're so often mistaken."

"But this is excellent!" the irrepressible Lord Teddy insisted. "Positively ripping," Pendleton, here, and Doris, Doris Marks—don't you see?"

"Only that both are of a mind that alcohol is better than tea, and that you agree?" Yvonne informed him. "And also that the tea I have poured for Miss Manners is awaiting to be passed?"

"A thousand pardons, Miss Manners—by the way, is it quite all right for me to repeat now what I let escape from me a few minutes ago about your being a devilish pretty girl, you know? I was telling Pen here—Ah, that clever thing I thought of. I must tell you what it was before I forget it!"

"One thing at a time," Yvonne insisted. "What were you telling Pen?"

"That I'd just seen the kind of a face that no man could ever forget after he'd once held it close to him. Isn't that what I said, Pen old boy?"

"You said absolutely nothing of the sort, or spoke of any face whatever," Pendleton gravely assured him.

"Perhaps I didn't," Teddy admitted. "But I thought it, and meant to say it. So Miss Manners will consider that I did."

Here the woman Yvonne had called Mrs. Marks interjected: "If she knew much of you, Teddy, she probably will have enough to remember of what you actually do say, without being bothered with what you merely think."

"Don't alarm her, please!" Lord Teddy exclaimed. "No woman ever remembers anything I say to her."

"They don't dare, perhaps," Pendleton observed.

"Both you and Doris—" Teddy began, and broke off. "Pendleton and Doris," he said again, "that brings me back to my clever thing. Listen, everyone! Pendleton and Doris Marks; whenever I come upon Pendleton here at Yvonne's I come upon Doris Marks. Penmarks! Isn't that clever? Penmarks! What?"

It was only Lord Teddy himself who laughed, and Joanna wondered why.

CHAPTER XV.

Joanna Holds Her Own

It was not long before Lord Teddy had skillfully manœuvred Joanna from the stone tea table in the winter garden into a teie a teie corner of the drawing room. "Never could stand Pendleton, you know," he confided to her when he had held a flame for her cigarette. "Can't see what Doris sees in him, or he in her, for that matter. Can you?"

"Do you know," Lord Teddy observed, moving closer to Joanna, "I'm going to be terribly fond of you before long."

"Is that how it is?" Joanna inquired. "You see everybody's fresh news to me, now. I have to wait for signs."

Lord Teddy eyed her intently. She felt singularly at ease with this exuberant young man. She laughed at him brightly when he protested: "Oh, really, now? You mustn't pretend that. I'm dreadfully dumb when a young woman declares that she doesn't know everything! It's never true these days, you know, and it's a lot jollier to not make believe!"

"I'll admit," she agreed, "that anything I don't know hurts. I've tried not to miss anything, but I have, a lot. So there's still a chance for you to do a bit of teaching. You may start with Mr. Pendleton and—was it Mrs. or Miss Marks. What was wrong about your Penmarks?"

"Do you know?" he observed, moving from his chair to a place closer to her on the divan into which she had settled. "I'm going to be terribly fond of you before long."

"Yes, I'm sure of that," she informed him. "I can see the signs. Anyhow, teachers always are, aren't they? But you were saying."

"About Penmarks? It's Mrs. Marks, of course. You'll probably see the other part of her tomorrow night? You'll be here, won't you?"

"I'll probably be here, but I don't know what's happening. Is it what ever you thought a while ago I might be coming to sing or dance for? I must find out yet what you think specially about singers and dancers."

"Yvonne's giving something or other, usual thing—Doris will be on deck with her husband; he's got a bad root, but a bit empty. She and Pen will be miserable trying to keep up appearances. It's beastly, of course, for anybody to have husbands and wives about, but these two moon about it so openly they're delightful."

"Is he married, too?"

"Fortunately," he has to be more suspicious than any husband know. You'll be fairly amused by the two of them, Pen and Doris, when they're used to them. They're always about some place for tea. That's why I really was clever, you know."

"And it doesn't make any difference to anybody? To their friends, like Miss Countess, and people who know of the husband and wife?"

Lord Teddy examined the girl beside him deliberately. He noted all the distinguishing patterns of her. His eyes dwelt particularly for an instant that barely could have been measured, on a smartly slicked knee, hardly yet escaped from the angular sharpness that is youth—but threatening to come out altogether from within the confines of a modishly measured dress. His glance, sweeping upward in its lightning appraisals, hovered joyously upon her mouth, that was almost round because of the full, scarlet curving of the lower lip and the deep, perfect hue of the upper one—a splash of color as if someone had crushed a red rose there. She knew what he was doing. She felt his eyes wherever they rested. Not a muscle of her twitched, but she was conscious of an exquisite thrill of satisfaction with herself. The knee had never before, upon such an occasion—and why were shirts worn short and lips shaped like round rose buds, and a gown fashioned so carefully, if not for open consideration—the knee had never before so beautifully sheathed in a silk so perfect, and the lips never so deftly toned and balanced.

Cariboo Highway Now Opened

Telegraph Line Has Been In This Country Since 1866

The new Cariboo Highway has at last been open to traffic, adding the final link in the communication of that secluded region with the outside world.

Since 1866 the Cariboo has been connected with the rest of the world by telegraph, ever since the Americans abandoned at Telegraph Creek their projected line to Russia.

The reason for such an undertaking was the desire to connect America with Europe by telegraph. The snapping of the first British cable across the Atlantic led to suspicion that a submarine telegraph was not feasible and the construction of a line to Siberia, routed by the Cariboo, was undertaken and completed as far as Telegraph Creek. At this point word was received of the successful laying on the second attempt of a cable across the Atlantic.

Proud of Being Nuisances

Many Motorists Use Horn When It Is Unnecessary

There are a lot of drivers who take instant resort to the horn when their progress is impeded. It is an evidence of inequity, but there it is. Some of the tiny boats on the Mississippi would have to stop when they blew the whistle, but these crafty motorists are stopped. One may easily imagine that they are proud of the opportunity of showing what nuisances they are. Anyhow, they go it with a zeal and frenzy that is quite convincing. The horn may be an unnecessary noise, but you can't prove it to these nit wits—Los Angeles Times.

THOUSANDS OF THANKFUL MOTHERS

Strongly Recommend Baby's Own Tablets to Their Friends

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would have nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise for them. One of the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N.S. who writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children, and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother of young children to keep a box of the Tablets in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by mail order by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Little Helps For This Week

Great peace have they which love Thy law.—Ps. cxix, 166.

Dear Lord and God, I feel like These are unto my call.

O grant me that in all, This will of mine

May still be one with Thine!

Teach me to answer still, Whate'er my lot may be.

To all Thy needest me Of good or ill.

All goeth as God will.

—Alice Williams.

The root of all dissatisfaction and discontent with self and with one's surroundings, and with one's prospects, can never be reached until we go down to the will of God in our soul's birth and soul's mission, and make the discovery of that will for us, and the doing it our chief aim and hope. No change in life's circumstances, no larger work, no happier outlook will be enough. We ourselves need to be born again; it is not our outward life that needs to be refashioned.—Newman Smyth.

Fastest Wheel in World

Turbine On Aeroplane Has Speed of 40,000 Revolutions a Minute

The fastest revolving wheel in the world, according to estimates of experts, is the turbine wheel on the special supercharger of the aeroplane used by Lieut. John Macready in his recent attempts to better the world's altitude record. It revolves at the almost inconceivable speed of 40,000 revolutions a minute—almost 700 a second. This is about twenty times the highest speed of an automobile crank shaft.—Popular Science Monthly.

Rub it in For Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

Mother of Eleven Children Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Her Interesting Experience

Buckingham, Quebec.—"I am the mother of eleven living children, and my baby is five months old. I am only 38 years old and I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and my nerves. I knew of it from my sister, Dame Edouard Bellefleur, of St. Ramonville. For five years I was in misery and was always ready to cry. Now I am so happy to have good health. My daughter, who is 15 years old, has also taken it and will be happy to recommend it to all young girls."—Dame Edouard Bellefleur, Box 414, Buckingham, Quebec.

not only provides a complete and safe lighting system for every room in the home, inside and around the stock-barns, etc., but it also, at the same time, delivers ample power to drive the smaller machinery and domestic equipment of the farm home.

The British-Built "LISTER"

In the name of Safety alone—not to speak of its tremendous labor saving and other conveniences—this wonderful piece of farm equipment is worth its modest price many times over.

An auction sale will be held Saturday next, Sept. 25th, at the J. Brax farm, Spruce Grove, of the stock and goods belonging to the estate of the late Ph. Unterschnitz.

The sale Saturday evening in front of McKeen's Meat Emporium of the effects of a late resident was well attended, and good prices were obtained for some articles. After the sale it was discovered that one article had been lost sight of, and an unsuccessful effort was made to bring the crowd together again. Failing this, the article was offered for sale by private treaty for the sum of one dollar. The auctioneer said "acquire there wasn't no silver handles on it; but seen' the cold weather's accumin' on, a nice warm coffin with an adjustable bottom is a bargain at one 'buck," in view of the fact the original cost was two dollars and 38 cents."

Here and There

The financial statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued at Montreal for the seven months of 1926 ending July 31st, shows the large increase in the net profits of $6,991,301.52 over the net profits for the first seven months of 1925. The gross earnings were $101,826,207.11, as compared with $90,345,867.75 for the first seven months of 1925.

Unofficial estimates prepared by the authorities of the Department of Commerce, Washington, estimated that Americans visiting Canada this year would spend approximately $190,000,000. This estimate was intimated to be very conservative and that it was more than likely that the amount would exceed the $200,000,000 mark.

Announcement was made recently over the signature of E. N. Todd, freight traffic manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, of the appointment of D. A. Wanklyn as Industrial Commissioner of the Railway, with office at Montreal. Mr. Wanklyn replaces Graham W. Curtis, who has resigned to fill the position of general manager for Montreal Rail and Water Terminals, Limited.

Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera Company, accompanied by a party of internationally known financiers of New York, visited the National Exhibition at Toronto recently. Mr. Kahn, who is perhaps the leading art and music patron of the United States, addressed a luncheon of the directors of the Exhibition on September 2nd, the day of the Exhibition, which was set aside as "Music Day."

It is understood that purchases in Canada of 5,000 railway cars may result from the visit of the engineering expert, Mr. Vandergrucht, and the Transport Commissioner's representative, Mr. Baronky, who have been delegated by the Soviet Republic to investigate the possibility of securing this number in Canada. They have also been instructed to make a study of the organization of the Canadian railway shops and the repair methods in general.

Three wolf cubs were caught recently near Lake Douville in Northern Ontario by Arthur Beauvais, well-known driver of the Chateau Frontenac dog team at Quebec, and will be trained by Beauvais for the harness. He is confident that by mingling the wolves with huskie puppies for several months they will lose some of their wolfish nature and make an attractive addition to the Chateau team. Beauvais states that, while wolves have endurance, they have not the "heart" of a huskie dog.

Two world's swimming records were established at the Crystal Gardens swimming pool at Victoria recently, when Ethel McGarry, of New York, swam 580 yards in 12 minutes and 41 seconds, or nine seconds better than the previous woman's record for this event; and when Agnes Gerahy, also of New York, clipped five and two-fifths seconds off the previous record for 500 yards, by completing the distance in three minutes and 12 and three-fifths seconds.

Celebrating the change in name of the historic Dominion Express Company to that of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, a street parade in Montreal was held September first, the day of the change in name, consisting of every description of Express vehicle, new and old. Sam Nightingale, a driver of 30 years' service, headed the parade seated in a wagon of 1890 vintage, and hailed by "Babe," a horse that has been in constant service with the Company for 19 years. Similar parades were held at Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.
